Neles' Interim Review January–March 2021

Markets improved faster than expected toward the end of Q1 – visible in positive development in Services and MRO-driven businesses

- Orders received grew by 15% compared to the fourth quarter of 2020
- Services and Maintenance, Repair and Operations-driven (MRO) businesses recovered in Q1, and Services orders were at the good 2019 level
- Sales were negatively impacted by delivery delays caused by the temporary supply center closure in Brazil, the timing of backlog deliveries and exchange rate fluctuations
- Profitability was at the comparison period's level, despite low sales. Cost control continued, and the sales margin was healthy
- Balance sheet further strengthened by the good cash flow

In this Interim Review, a comparable balance sheet and a cash flow statement are disclosed in addition to IFRS financial information. Figures in parentheses refer to the corresponding period of the continuing operations in 2020 unless otherwise stated. Neles Group has been reported as one segment since June 30, 2020.

President and CEO Olli Isotalo:

The markets improved faster than expected toward the end of the first quarter. We saw improving activity in our Services and MRO-driven businesses. Services orders are already at the good 2019 level. The MRO-driven business has also improved significantly compared to the previous quarter, although it remains slightly below the pre-Covid-19 pandemic levels. Pulp, paper and bioproduct project activity remained good. We won new Pulp and Paper projects in APAC, and booked add-ons to existing projects in EMEIA and South America. Chemicals and Oil & Gas market activity was weak; however, the future project funnel is satisfactory, and we expect orders to recover in the second half of 2021.

Sales in the first quarter were low. This was as expected due to the timing of the deliveries in the order backlog. The challenges caused by the Covid-19 pandemic in our Brazilian operations further deferred sales from the first quarter. We contained the outbreak and managed to reopen our Brazilian supply center, but with restricted capacity, prioritizing the health and safety of our employees. We will catch up with the deferred sales during this year.

During the first quarter, we continued with tight cost control, which supported our profitability despite the low sales. Despite the cost savings and the challenges caused by the Covid-19 pandemic, we were able to progress our strategic development programs. We progressed well in relocating and developing our sales support resources in India. We completed roll-outs of our harmonized ERP system in Sweden and Brazil.

As the market situation improves during the coming quarters, we plan to accelerate our strategy execution, with targeted additions in sales and RTD resources.

Market outlook

Market activity in Pulp, Paper and bioproduct projects is expected to continue at a good level.

Market activity in Chemicals and Oil & Gas projects was weak in the first quarter of 2021. The market activity is expected to return to a satisfactory level during the second half of 2021. Postponements of projects and global uncertainties continue to reduce visibility in the Chemicals and Oil & Gas project businesses.

Market activity for the Services and the customer Maintenance, Repair and Operations-driven (MRO) businesses was satisfactory during the first quarter of 2021. These markets are expected to continue to improve, reaching a good level at the latest in the second half of 2021.

The ongoing Covid-19 pandemic continues to create uncertainties and risks of abrupt changes in all markets important for Neles.

The market outlook reflects management's expectation for the next six months unless otherwise stated.

Covid-19 pandemic update

In 2020, the Services and other MRO-driven businesses were negatively impacted by Covid-19 pandemic-related mobility restrictions and customers' tight cash management. Especially large maintenance shutdowns were postponed. The global situation in the Services and MRO-driven businesses has been clearly improving in the first quarter of 2021, but uncertainties and risks in certain regions are expected to continue in the first half of 2021.

In the first quarter of 2021, Neles' Brazilian supply center was temporarily closed due to Covid-19 pandemic cases, which caused delays in deliveries and a reduction in sales in the first quarter. The supply center reopened more quickly than initially expected due to attentive management of the situation. Currently, the facility is operating with limited capacity, prioritizing the health and safety of the personnel. The deferred sales due to the facility's closure are expected to be recovered during 2021. Neles has operations in several regions where the Covid-19 pandemic continues to cause disruptions. There continue to be risks of similar temporary closures of local Neles operations as those experienced in Brazil.

The global logistics situation continues to be challenging. The risk of delivery delays has increased toward the end of the first quarter.

Since the second quarter of 2020, Neles has taken proactive measures to ensure the safety of employees, control costs and preserve cash flow to protect the company's financial position. The measures have included a variety of enforced safety procedures at manufacturing sites, remote working, travel restrictions, cuts to external spending across the organization, as well as cost-saving and optimization activities.

Increased attention has also been paid to managing net working capital. There have been no material credit losses or order cancellations.

Neles' Interim Review January–March 2021

Operating environment

The overall market activity started to improve during the first quarter of 2021. The Pulp, paper and bioproducts project business remained active and at a good level. Neles won new projects, as well as additional orders for ongoing projects. The Services and MRO-driven business environment improved from the weak level of the second half of 2020 to satisfactory level. Orders received in Services during the first quarter already corresponded to the 2019 level. Orders received in the MRO-driven business improved sequentially but remained below the pre-Covid-19 pandemic levels. Chemicals and Oil & Gas project activity was weak. Orders were clearly below the very strong comparison period in 2020 and in the fourth quarter of 2020.

In the first quarter, market sentiment in the North American Market Area started to improve, and orders received grew by 49% from the previous quarter. This was also supported by seasonality.

The Services and MRO-driven businesses improved from the fourth quarter of 2020 in the EMEIA (Europe, Middle East, India and Africa) and APAC Market Areas. Project business was suppressed in EMEIA, while in APAC, it remained at a solid level, supported by investment activity in China. In the comparison period, project orders received in APAC were particularly strong.

South America Market Area orders received were clearly below the 2020 comparison period, during which large Pulp, Paper and Bioproducts project orders were booked. Despite the challenging Covid-19 pandemic situation, the overall market activity was at a solid level in South America.

Orders and Sales

Asia-Pacific	33.8	50.7	132.2
Neles total	153.9	190.9	590.1

The decline in orders was due to a decline in project orders across all market areas compared to the very high level in the comparison period. Orders received in Services and MRO-driven businesses totaled EUR 112.4 million (EUR 107.4 million), of which Services orders were EUR 40.5 million (EUR 37.1 million). The order backlog on March 31, 2021 was EUR 298.4 million (EUR 337.4 million).

In the first quarter, profitability was negatively impacted by low sales. Cost-saving activities related to external spending continued in the first quarter of 2021, supporting profitability. A dividend of EUR 33.1 million was paid on April 8, 2021.

Share-based long-term incentive schemes for key personnel

On January 5, 2021, Neles granted DSUP 2021–2023 as a first individual plan within the DSUP structure to 39 people in Neles' top management. The reward will be earned through individual-, business-, or company-level performance criteria in 2021. The reward earned in 2021 will be converted to synthetic share units for an approximately two-year share price performance period. On February 4, 2021, Neles granted a PSP 2021–2023 plan to the members of the Neles Executive Management Team. The reward is based on the performance targets relative to the total shareholder return of Neles share and earnings per share (EPS) from 2021 to 2023. The reward earned will be paid in shares, and the aggregate maximum number of shares to be paid based on this plan is approximately 277,000 shares.

Additionally, the Board of Directors has decided to pay the earned reward of the DSUP 2018 plan in cash in July 2021. The amount of the cash reward to be paid to 16 persons will be based on the market value of 114,388 shares in the April 15, 2021–April 30, 2021 valuation period.

Other main events in Q1 2021

March 24: Neles gave notification of a temporary closure of its Brazilian supply center due to Covid-19 pandemic cases at the location. The temporary closure of the Brazilian supply center and the consequent delay in sales recognition to subsequent quarters, the timing of other deliveries in the order backlog and exchange rate fluctuations were estimated to have a negative impact on first quarter sales. Sales were estimated to have declined by approximately EUR 10 million or more compared to the first quarter of 2020. Delays in sales will be recovered during the rest of the year.

Events after the end of Q1 2021

April 19: Neles Corporation has received a tax decision and payment request of EUR 1.8 million from the Finnish Tax Authority regarding withholding taxes related to the 2015 and 2016 dividend payments. Neles considers the decision of the Finnish Tax Authority to be unfounded and intends to appeal against it. However, Neles will make the required payment in April 2021 to avoid incurring additional interest costs and increases during the appeals process.

Covid-19 pandemic update

In 2020, the Services and other MRO-driven businesses were negatively impacted by Covid-19 pandemic-related mobility restrictions and customers' tight cash management. Especially large maintenance shutdowns were postponed. The global situation in the Services and MRO-driven businesses has been clearly improving in the first quarter of 2021, but uncertainties and risks in certain regions are expected to continue in the first half of 2021.

In the first quarter of 2021, Neles' Brazilian supply center was temporarily closed due to Covid-19 pandemic cases, which caused delays in deliveries and a reduction in sales in the first quarter. The supply center reopened more quickly than initially expected due to attentive management of the situation. Currently, the facility is operating with limited capacity, prioritizing the health and safety of the personnel. The deferred sales due to the facility's closure are expected to be recovered during 2021. Neles has operations in several regions where the Covid-19 pandemic continues to cause disruptions. There continue to be risks of similar temporary closures of local Neles operations as those experienced in Brazil.

The global logistics situation continues to be challenging. The risk of delivery delays has increased toward the end of the first quarter.

Since the second quarter of 2020, Neles has taken proactive measures to ensure the safety of employees, control costs and preserve cash flow to protect the company's financial position. The measures have included a variety of enforced safety procedures at manufacturing sites, remote working, travel restrictions, cuts to external spending across the organization, as well as cost-saving and optimization activities.

Increased attention has also been paid to managing net working capital. There have been no material credit losses or order cancellations.

Short-term business risks and market uncertainties

In addition to risks related to the Covid-19 pandemic, increasing trade restrictions, inflation and the impact of tariffs or other trade barriers could pose challenges to Neles' supply chain and price management, impacting the company's growth capability and margins. Exchange rate fluctuations and changes in commodity prices could affect our orders received, sales and financial position. Neles hedges currency exposure linked to firm delivery and purchase agreements. Other market- and customer-related risks could also cause planned and ongoing projects to be postponed, delayed or discontinued. The global logistics situation continues to be challenging. The risk of delays in delivery has increased toward the end of the first quarter.

Uncertain market conditions could adversely affect our customers' payment behavior and increase the risk of lawsuits, claims and disputes against Neles in various countries related to Neles' products, projects and other operations, for example.

Market outlook

Market activity in Pulp, Paper and bioproduct projects is expected to continue at a good level.

Market activity in Chemicals and Oil & Gas projects was weak in the first quarter of 2021. The market activity is expected to return to a satisfactory level during the second half of 2021. Postponements of projects and global uncertainties continue to reduce visibility in the Chemicals and Oil & Gas project businesses.

Market activity for the Services and the customer Maintenance, Repair and Operations-driven (MRO) businesses was satisfactory during the first quarter of 2021. These markets are expected to continue to improve, reaching a good level at the latest in the second half of 2021.

The ongoing Covid-19 pandemic continues to create uncertainties and risks of abrupt changes in all markets important for Neles.

The market outlook reflects management's expectation for the next six months unless otherwise stated.

1. Basis of preparation

This Financial Statement review has been prepared in accordance with IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting, applying the accounting policies in the Financial Statements 2020 of Neles Group. New accounting standards have been adopted as described in note 2. This Interim Review is unaudited.

The partial demerger of Metso Group was effective on June 30, 2020 and the continuing group was renamed the Neles Group. Neles Group is reported as continuing operations and separated Metso Minerals operations and a proportioned share of Group Head office and other for the January 1–June 30, 2020 period as discontinued operations in the income statement. From June 30, 2020, Neles Group is reported as one segment.

Neles' performance is measured with operating profit (EBIT). In addition, Neles uses several other alternative performance measures to reflect the underlying business performance and to improve comparability between financial periods. However, alternative performance measures, should not be considered a substitute for measures of performance in accordance with the IFRS.

All figures presented have been rounded, and the sum of individual figures may therefore differ from the presented total figure.

2. New accounting standards

New and amended standards adopted in 2021

Neles has applied the following revised IFRS Standards that have been effective since January 1, 2021. These amendments have not had a material impact on the reported figures.

- Amendments to IFRS 9, IAS 39, IFRS 7, IFRS 4 and IFRS 16 Interest Rate Benchmark Reform Phase 2

6. Fair value estimation

For those financial assets and liabilities which have been recognized at fair value in the balance sheet, the following measurement hierarchy and valuation methods have been applied:

- Level 1 Quoted unadjusted prices at the balance sheet date in active markets. The market prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, market information service system, pricing service or regulatory agency. The quoted market price used for financial assets is the current bid price. Level 1 financial instruments include debt and equity investments classified as financial instruments at fair value through profit and loss.
- Level 2 The fair value of financial instruments in Level 2 is determined using valuation techniques. These techniques utilize observable market data readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, market information service system, pricing service or regulatory agency. Level 2 financial instruments include:
- Over-the-counter derivatives classified as financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit and loss or qualified for hedge accounting

- Debt securities classified as financial instruments at fair value through profit and loss
- Fixed rate debt under fair value hedge accounting

Level 3 A financial instrument is categorized into Level 3 if the calculation of the fair value cannot be based on observable market data. Neles had no such instruments.

The table below presents Neles' financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value. There have been no transfers between fair value levels during the periods.

EUR million	3/21			12/20
